

The Fox and the Crow - True-false statements

First read the fable. Then, read the statements and decide if they are true (T) or false (F).

Once upon a time, in a big forest, there was a clever fox and a proud crow. The crow found a piece of cheese and perched on a branch of a tall tree. Holding the cheese in its beak, the crow felt very happy and started to caw loudly.

The fox, seeing the cheese, had an idea. He approached the tree and said, "Hello, Mrs. Crow! You look so beautiful today. Your voice must be as sweet as you are. Would you please sing for me?"

The crow, feeling flattered, opened her beak to sing. But as soon as she did, the cheese fell down. The fox quickly grabbed it and ran away.

The crow realized her mistake. She felt silly for falling for the fox's trick. From then on, she learned not to trust someone just because they give compliments.

And the clever fox enjoyed the cheese, reminding himself that sometimes, flattery can get you far.

Statements:

1. The crow found a piece of bread. ____
2. The fox admired the crow's singing. ____
3. The crow felt sad when the cheese fell down. ____
4. The fox tricked the crow with compliments. ____
5. The fable takes place in a city. ____
6. The fox gave the cheese back to the crow. ____
7. The crow was perched on the ground. ____
8. The fox felt guilty for tricking the crow. ____
9. The crow sang a beautiful song for the fox. ____
10. The crow learned not to trust flattery. ____

The Fox and the Crow - True-false statements

First read the fable. Then, read the statements and decide if they are true (T) or false (F).

Once upon a time, in a big forest, there was a clever fox and a proud crow. The crow found a piece of cheese and perched on a branch of a tall tree. Holding the cheese in its beak, the crow felt very happy and started to caw loudly.

The fox, seeing the cheese, had an idea. He approached the tree and said, "Hello, Mrs. Crow! You look so beautiful today. Your voice must be as sweet as you are. Would you please sing for me?"

The crow, feeling flattered, opened her beak to sing. But as soon as she did, the cheese fell down. The fox quickly grabbed it and ran away.

The crow realized her mistake. She felt silly for falling for the fox's trick. From then on, she learned not to trust someone just because they give compliments.

And the clever fox enjoyed the cheese, reminding himself that sometimes, flattery can get you far.

Statements:

1. The crow found a piece of bread. ____
2. The fox admired the crow's singing. ____
3. The crow felt sad when the cheese fell down. ____
4. The fox tricked the crow with compliments. ____
5. The fable takes place in a city. ____
6. The fox gave the cheese back to the crow. ____
7. The crow was perched on the ground. ____
8. The fox felt guilty for tricking the crow. ____
9. The crow sang a beautiful song for the fox. ____
10. The crow learned not to trust flattery. ____