A

Carlos: How can we help preserve them?

Ana: There are many ways. We can learn some words and phrases in those languages, support the communities that speak them, and learn about their history and culture.

B

Ana: Well, it's important because these languages are a part of our cultural heritage. They help keep the history and traditions of our indigenous communities alive.

C

Carlos: That sounds great. What indigenous languages are spoken in Mexico?

D

Ana: There are many, like Nahuatl, Mixtec, and Zapotec, among others. Each one has its own richness.
Carlos: That's impressive. Let's research more and learn about them.
