One sunny day at Brightland High School, a young boy named Timmy was excited about show-and-tell. He had a special plan to show his friends some cool pictures on his cellphone.

During recess, Timmy accidentally left his phone on the bench. When he returned, it was gone. His heart sank, and he felt worried.

Timmy told his teacher, Mrs. Johnson, about his lost phone. She comforted him and, with the class's help, organized a search. Timmy's friend, Sarah, suggested calling his phone, and it rang from the lost and found box!

A kind classmate, Carlos, had found Timmy's phone and turned it in. Timmy was so relieved and grateful. He learned that his friends were always there to help him.

At show-and-tell, Timmy shared his story and thanked his classmates for their help. They all clapped and smiled, knowing they were a great group.
