

Describing an unexpected situation 2

I. Read the unexpected situation and match the questions and the answers.

I feel awful. Yesterday at school my closest friend Sarah with who I share everything, told me she's four months pregnant.

I pretended to be happy for her but I was shocked to hear that. It's not that I'm not happy for her. I am... jealous. Our friendship, as we knew it, has changed irrevocably.

I hate the thought of us not being in the same place, doing the same things. I felt left behind, betrayed, and abandoned. She is going to want to be alone after the birth and I'm really going to miss her.

II. Read the unexpected situation and answer the questions.

Last night my friend and I went to the new Chinese restaurant in town. After eating and I realized my phone wasn't in my pocket. I checked the table we were sitting at, the bathrooms, and after no luck I used my friend's phone to call mine. After two rings someone answered, gave out a low raspy giggle, and hung up. They didn't answer again. I eventually gave it up as a lost cause and I went back home. I was so sad. When I got home, I found my phone laying on my night stand, right where I left it.
